Catalog Spring 2007

What's Your Story?

We enjoy hearing from you about how donated technology products are truly making a difference in your vital work. If the devil is in the everyday details of our work at TechSoup Stock (www.techsoup.org/stock), our heavenly reward is hearing from you.

In past editions of the catalog, we've shared some of our favorite stories. You've heard about City Mission of Detroit, which is exposing kids to basic computer skills and using computers to tutor them in reading and math. They were able to upgrade their network with Microsoft Windows and Office software, Cisco hardware, and Symantec's AntiVirus software. City Mission's Joe Follick told us: "The students were very eager to try the new technology; most of these kids use our facilities since they don't have computers at home."

You might remember the story of Seth Mazow of Interplast. Interplast provides free reconstructive surgery worldwide and maintains medical programs in 25 locations. Seth says, "technology is important when we don't notice it." Interplast relies on its global network of volunteers, so reliable communications tools are essential. By upgrading its network with Windows Server software and a Cisco networking switch, Interplast was able to make dramatic improvements to its electronic communications abilities. (You can find Seth's blogging tips at TechSoup's NetSquared Web site: www.netsquared.org/seth)

There's one more story we'd love to hear: yours. If you have a spare moment, drop us a note at story@techsoup.org and let us know how technology donations from our generous donors are helping your nonprofit fulfill its mission. Developed and tested by fundraising professionals, GrantStation membership includes instant access to a searchable database of thousands of pre-screened foundation and corporate grantmakers that are actively accepting proposals from nonprofits.

There's still time left to save before our fiscal year ends on June 30.

Many donation programs at TechSoup Stock allow eligible organizations to receive a fixed quantity of technology products between July 1 and June 30 of each year (our fiscal year).

To maximize the benefits of our donation programs, eligible organizations can request a donation from a program with a fiscal year-end schedule any time before June 30 – and become eligible once more on July 1.

NOTE: Your organization may be eligible to order from multiple programs during our fiscal year.
